

CONVINCED GERMAN FLEET WILL SOON BE IMMOBILIZED

Great Britain Pushes Plans For A Major Landing of Troops at Norway

ON THE WEST COAST

Berlin Claims Ten British Planes Brought Down Off Bergen

LONDON, Apr. 13—Convinced that Germany's fleet is or soon will be immobilized completely, Great Britain today pushed plans for a major landing of troops on the west coast of Norway, in collaboration with the Norwegian army.

Heavy pressure is being brought to bear on the Norwegian high command, it was learned, to concentrate a land assault on one major port such as Trondheim to expel Nazi occupational forces and permit an allied landing.

Latest information in London indicated that the Germans still control the chief ports and strategic key ports along the Norwegian coastline. The British are believed to have a huge expeditionary force ready for an immediate landing.

However the British are depending upon their Norwegian allies to dislodge the invaders.

BERLIN, Apr. 13—Ten British airplanes have been brought down in a violent air battle off Bergen, Norway, during the last few hours, the German high command asserted today.

An official communique said: "Further large detachments of German troops arrived at Oslo, Friday, and proceeded to assigned areas. Troops in the Narvik region further extended their positions. The British have not attempted landings anywhere."

"In an attempted raid on Bergen, 10 enemy planes were brought down. Two German planes are missing."

BERLIN, Apr. 13—Nazi Germany today sharply warned Sweden against "betting on a British war victory," and claimed that the allies have already suffered a "basic defeat in Norway."

Authentic Nazi quarters accused the Swedish government of "deliberately falling for British propaganda."

"If the Swedes want to bet on England," a spokesman said, "the responsibility will be theirs if they drive Norway along the road of Poland."

Winter Stages A Surprise "Come-Back;" No Accidents

In a surprise "come-back," winter painted the landscape white with snow, and coated the highways with ice last night. The temperature, dropping down into the twenties, made residents reach for winter outer-garments to ward off the chilly blasts.

An occasional motorist was found throughout the area this morning "caught" by the mercury drop, and attempting to thaw out an automobile radiator.

Pennsylvania Motor Police at Oxford Valley barracks reported that no accidents were listed, even with the highways coated with ice. Traffic moved slowly during the night and early morning, in view of the icy thoroughfares. By nine o'clock the Lincoln Highway and Bristol Pike were practically clear of snow, with other highways clearing soon after as the sun shone brilliantly.

Playing an overtime engagement with all the vigor of a first appearance, winter continued today the assault which has sent Spring into hiding over much of the nation.

An exception was Southern California, basking in record heat. At the opposite end of the continent, in metropolitan New York, winter returned to rout spring with snow, sleet and freezing weather. Two inches of snow fell on the metropolis.

The cold wave took in most of the midwest, stretched eastward to the Atlantic coast, westward to the Rockies, southward to the Gulf of Mexico and into northern Florida and parts of the Texas Panhandle.

Extreme cold was retreating slowly from most of the midwest, which has experienced freezing temperatures within the past 48 hours reaching a low of 2 degrees at Sidney, Neb. The central states, however, were promised milder weather by tomorrow or Monday.

Three deaths were ascribed to the cold in Indiana yesterday. Mrs. Grace Badger and her two young nephews, Garland and Philip de Weese, were found frozen to death in their stalled automobile at New Market, Ind.

In the deep South the cold threatened early garden and fruit crops, and elsewhere Spring planting was retarded.

Southern California's heat wave also had its casualties. In Los Angeles yesterday there were many prostrations as the mercury broke a 19-year record for the date by hitting 94 degrees. In San Pedro, a WPA worker was prostrated and died enroute to a hospital.

ASKS NEW TRIAL; CLAIMS JURY GIVEN DICTIONARY

"Mercy Killer's" Lawyer Calls Action of Tiptstaff at Trial Improper

MUST ANSWER PETITION

ALLENTOWN, Apr. 13—The Lehigh County Court yesterday was asked to grant a new trial in the case of Miss Margaret Cowan, 77-year-old former nurse and resident of Quakertown, who was convicted of the mercy slaying of her ill sister.

Daniel Garrahan, defense attorney, told Judge Richard W. Tobst that a tipstaff of the court had given the jury a dictionary while it was deliberating Miss Cowan's fate. Garrahan said this was improper.

Judge Tobst granted a rate ordering the Commonwealth to answer Garrahan's petition within 15 days.

Miss Cowan is serving a life sentence in the State Industrial Home for Women at Muncy. The jury found her guilty in the "mercy killing" of her sister, Mrs. Louella Saeger, 65, in the Allentown State Mental Hospital, last August 15.

"Four years ago I moved from Allentown to Quakertown; four years from now God will probably make me move again," Miss Cowan said as she was being taken from Allentown to the State Home for Women at Muncy, to begin her life sentence for the murder of her sister, Mrs. John Saeger, of Spinnerstown. Miss Cowan, in what she termed a "mercy killing under divine guidance," shot and killed her sister who was a patient in the Allentown State Hospital last August.

Miss Cowan was found guilty of first degree murder and sentenced to the State Industrial Home on Thursday.

"I would rather have the electric chair than this," she is quoted as saying by the attendants who took her to Muncy shortly after sentence was pronounced.

The new dial telephone systems for Doylestown and Plumsteadville will be placed in service at seven a. m. on Sunday, May 5th.

Bell Telephone Company engineers are making final tests of the dial equipment which is housed in the newly-erected central office building at 25 East State street in Doylestown and in a new building on Stump road, in Plumsteadville.

Beginning Monday, telephone operators will call all Doylestown subscribers to give them an opportunity to listen to and become familiar with the sound of telephone line signals which will go into effect when the change to dial is made. These signals indicate when the line is ready for use and when the called party's telephone is being rung or is busy. J. Howard Reiff, manager for the telephone company, pointed out.

A specially printed supplement to the telephone directory is being distributed to be used when dial service begins. The supplement contains the dial telephone numbers of the subscribers in those two communities.

CIVILIZATION RETARDED BY AFFAIRS IN EUROPE

Is One Point Brought Out By Mrs. E. S. Goodwin As She Speaks To Travel Club

"U. S. LOOKS AT WORLD"

Appearing before the Travel Club for the third time this season in a series of current events addresses, Mrs. Elizabeth Stewart Goodwin had as her subject yesterday, "The United States Looks at the World."

After her introduction by Mrs. Earl H. Tomb, Mrs. Goodwin gave an hour's discussion of affairs both at home and abroad, touching on numerous problems of a governmental nature, relief, etc., within the United States, then turning attention to the more momentous and serious affairs in Europe.

In her consideration of the tragic situation in Europe at the present moment, Mrs. Goodwin made these pertinent remarks:

"We are surely going to see civilization thrown back a couple of hundred years if that type of action continues abroad."

"America's chief attribute is that she has insisted on trying to raise man's condition in life. American has striven to make better men by making happier men."

"The most serious thing we Americans have to face is the thought that if Germany should be victorious, we might see the Nazi flag flying over Canada, the Bermudas and the Bahamas."

Giving attention to views on the foreign situation, the speaker remarked that "In the light of foreign conditions, the isolationists are saying very little now."

Automobile In Test Run To Arrive Here Tuesday

One of the most significant test runs in modern automotive history will arrive here Tuesday morning at nine o'clock as part of an itinerary which includes 90 cities in four states and will necessitate more than 3,000 miles of test driving.

Such was the substance of a statement made here today by J. F. Knoff, Lincoln-Zephyr and Mercury Supervisor of this area for the Ford Motor Company, following a conference with Bucks County Sales and Service, local automobile dealers. The proposed test will be in the nature of an economy run and will be made in a 1939 Mercury automobile.

The purpose of the trip, according to Bucks County Sales and Service, is to provide a factual demonstration of recent developments in automotive engineering. Speeds between 15 and 20 miles per hour once were considered most economical, but this economy run will attempt to prove that modern automotive equipment functions best at much higher speeds. In the case of the Mercury, Bucks County Sales and Service stated, laboratory findings indicate its most economical rate to be approximately 45 miles per hour.

The official economy car will be driven by C. A. McKeon, whose regular position with the Ford organization is Service Representative at Chester, Pa.

Arrangements are being made here to provide a suitable reception for the official car on its arrival. An automobile with a visible gasoline reservoir will be used for demonstration purposes. The container holds exactly one-tenth of a gallon of fuel, and local persons will be given the opportunity to compete for the best mileage record under test conditions. Bucks County Sales and Service concluded.

LOOK lady! with JOSEPHINE HUDDLESTON

If you're one of those shy, lonely girls who just can't quite manage the blithe, easy manner which makes others quickly at ease in a strange crowd, regular bowling will prove to be your fairy godmother—one that will open wide the doors to companionship and popularity.

Many of the 3,000,000 women who do bowl regularly claim that much of their enthusiasm for bowling comes from being able to indulge in healthful physical exercise while enjoying the companionship of other women.

Because there are definite things to be done when one is part of a bowling group, shy girls are drawn into the action of the game rather than permitted to stand on the sidelines looking on.

Because shy, lonely girls have their mind on the game rather than on themselves, they are lifted out of the self-consciousness which covers their personality like a dull cloak and become sparkling individuals.

When the brain is burdened with thoughts of insecurity, of being afraid to make friendly overtures towards others, the body reacts by becoming tense, restrained and awkward.

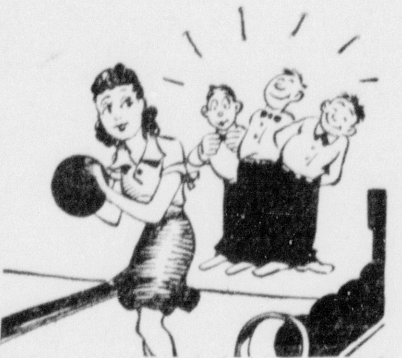

Because of the healthful exercise, shy girls stretch muscles long tense and stiff. They relax and so gain poise.

Bowling teaches the brain new ideas, for it is a swiftly moving, physical sport, one that is keen and competitive. The brain has no time to muddle with personalities. It is busy with learning how to control the ball so that it hits the king pin in exactly the right place to send the tenpins toppling for a strike!

The mind occupied with such interesting and constructive plans, all the muscles react naturally, giving poise, gracefulness and personality.

Shy girls will find women at bowling centers interested in the game and in all other women who are interested in bowling.

Thus, a new girl—even a shy one—is quickly drawn into the crowd.

Happily occupied with the game, gaining confidence through the friendliness and help of other women bowlers, the shy girl soon becomes confident and radiant—no longer a lonely onlooker but a girl with a good game to play among friends.

Civilization Retarded By Affairs in Europe

After touching on the horrible invasion of Norway and Denmark, she reminded how Switzerland was forced to aid Germany by sale of goods, primarily through fear of invasion, “which will come at any time the Nazis see fit to cross that country.” That Russia is still an unknown quantity in the affair of the world, was another suggestion; and the women were told that “not a single news correspondent has been permitted to go into Poland to send out reports.”

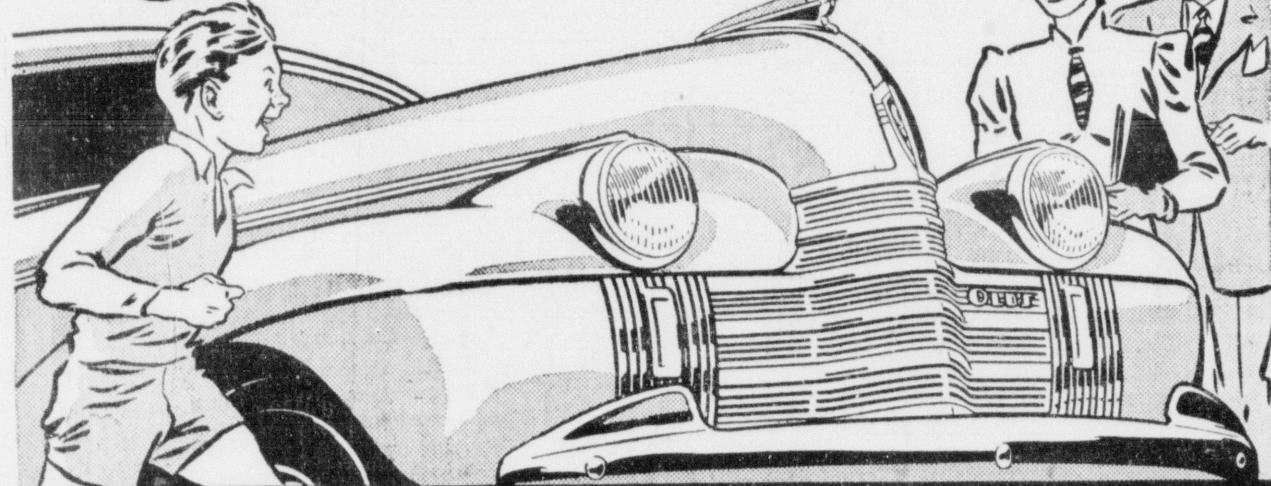

Turning eyes to the lands South of the order, the expropriation of oil in Mexico was given some time in the discussion. The sincere sympathy and understanding on the part of Cardenas for the poor peasant population was told of, with the different attitude toward the oil question on the part of the uneducated peoples of that country. “When the peasants threw out the capitalists, whether foreign or Mexican, and the land was given over to the peasants, it was somewhat like throwing out the baby with the bath water. They then couldn't get credit for implements with which to till the land.” That the United States is “treading softly” in the matter is due to the fact that similar conditions exist in some South American countries, was the opinion of the speaker.

Mrs. William DuHamel presided; and the meeting records for the day were in charge of Mrs. Paul V. Foster. Miss Winifred Tracy reported the sum of $66 cleared on the recent play.

Members of the club approved the ticket for the Bucks County Federation of Women's Clubs as suggested by the nominating committee. The Spring meeting of the federation will take place in Newtown Presbyterian Church on April 26th, with sessions at 2.30 and 7.30.
